This simple practice done consistently creates a financial footprint and puts your business in a better position to access loans.
 - It is also recommended that, as soon as you start trading, you register your business.
 - Keep proper accounting records – from your receipt books to raw material purchases, to your profits earned. Keep your records!
 - Please note that Approved Financial Institutions may have varying requirements based on their credit risk management policies, so explore your options to see which one is right for you.
